The receipts on this railway for the fortnight ending August 31 amount to 8,872*s.*, and for the corresponding period of last year, to 8,874*s.* The receipts for the first fortnight of the year since the commencement of the present book year on the 1st of May, including the above, amount to 60,037*s.*, showing an increase over the corresponding period of last year of 10,000*s.* The expenditure for the fortnight ending August 31 amounts to 22,394*s.*, and for the first fortnight of the year since the commencement of the present book year on the 1st of May to the 31st of August to 22,834*s.*, or 37*s.* 2*d.* more. The accounts for the first fortnight of the year upon a double track system, so fair a comparison of the fortnightly expenditure is possible, but the expenditure of the year 1867-68 was 50 per cent. of the receipts.

HADLEY AND COALPORT.

On Tuesday the first sod of this undertaking was cut in the field in the vicinity of Hadley, Shropshire. This line, which is to be 10 miles in length, will connect the Coalport branch of the London and North-Western Railway Company, and is 7½ miles in length. From the character of the country through which it is to pass, the heavy and numerous traffic is expected. The first sod was turned, and loud cheers, by Mr. J. E. Errington, the engineer. Refreshments were handed round to the company, and the proceedings terminated.

"I there claim as a matter of justice at your hands a full and complete investigation of all the facts connected with the cable, and I claim that the cable, and I claim that the directors have thought right to found summary dismissal, and I claim that this investigation take place, and I claim that the facts connected with the cable be properly elicited and appreciated."

The neglect or incompetence of those at the helm of so great an undertaking—a national enterprise, in which the Government has so largely identified itself—too serious a matter to be left to the discretion of a few persons on the Board-room, or got rid of by the more summary process of dismissing an official.

I now therefore suggest that the investigation be challenged, and not yet granted, shall take place in the hands of the shareholders of the company, to whom all the facts should be immediately registered, and that every shareholder send every telegram upon the subject shall be published.

This, Sir, is my answer to the unwarrantable claim contained in the letter from the secretary, which, in the language of so many of us, has this morning appeared in the columns of the Standard. I trust that the simple words which I have now said will, perhaps, satisfy the public that investigation should be entrusted to other hands.

A single expression in my published letter I now from more recent information, has unintentionally deepened a friend of credit due to him. The President's reply to Mr. May's message, received shortly after the meeting of the 11th of January, at New Bedford, and which I have already have been) solely by the use of my instrument, was received and recorded at Valletia by the kind use of instruments of Professor Thomson and my friend, Mr. Francis Smith, of the Journal of Commerce.
